Trenbolone Mix is a steroid containing three different esters like trenbolone acetate, enanthate and hexahydrobenzilcarbonat. These substances are present in equal amounts of 50 mg each. Due to the action of acetate product that has a faster action to start, the reason that can be compared with Parabolan at the beginning of the administration. Because it is a preparation based on trenbolone is used by bodybuilders both for defining and for the accumulation of muscle mass and strength. With this product we obtain muscle mass in a short time without water retention and fat in the body.

Trenbolone Mix has the property of flavor, but has a tendency to bind to progesterone receptors. Side effects caused by progesterone are similar to those of estrogen. A concern is gynecomastia that occurs rarely in people who use Trenbolone. This effect can happen when trenbolone is combined with another steroid it is flavouring easy. For this reason it is advisable to use antiestrogens.

Normal dose to be used trenbolone mix is 150-300 mg per week. When is desired muscle gains it can be combined with testosterone E and for defining with testosterone P, Primobol or Oxandrolone.
